

WELDCOTE CUT ROD

Description- Weldcote Cut Rod is a special cutting electrode with a heavy coating. Arc start and welding are easy with this electrode and it can be used with high currents, it is an easily used electrode and gives easy arc start. This electrode should be positioned perpendicular to the work. Used in cutting and gouging of metals like cast iron, aluminum, stainless steels. This electrode is frequently used for removing rivets and bolts, enlarging openings, trimming metals, etc.

Available diameters and packages:

Diameters- 1/8" , 5/32" , & 3/16"

Packaged in 3-8 pound tubes in a 24 pound master carton